

The Living Part of a Legend - Vol. 4 - Into a Looking Glass Several Thousand Years Old

Explore a Fabled Lost World of Knowledge and Power... Legends are the relics of a shipwreck; far more of the secrets of the past have been lost than preserved. Accounts of what truly exists in our world began long after the realities had faded from human memory legends arose to preserve those realities. Explore the secrets underlying one of the greatest of all ancient legends, that of a hidden society of highly enlightened masters living deep in the majestic Himalayan Mountains, revealing knowledge that for long millenniums has remained hidden under the most intense silence. On an extended trek in that vast wilderness, explorer M.G. Hawking encounters a tiny village nestled below massive ice peaks, a village called Siddhalaya. There he has the privilege of meeting extraordinary men and women introduced to him as masters and adepts possessed of knowledge and powers virtually unknown to the Western world. While its possible to read this book as a collection of adventures and mystical experiences, a deeper reading reveals it to be a fiercely felt account of a spiritual journey, an exploration of the true nature of reality, and an in-depth account of the vast powers by which masters manipulate reality to produce what seem to be miracles. Richly enlightening and inspirational, this book is a must read for anyone on a spiritual path or seeking greater personal knowledge and power.
