

The Quran: An Introduction (Foundations of Islam)

Muslims consider the Quran to be the final revelation of God. Moral code for millions of believers worldwide, it is seen as the principal miracle of the prophet Muhammad. In this stimulating study, Anna M. Gade provides a comprehensive primer to the sacred work, exploring the many ways in which Muslims approach this multifaceted text. Broaching the language and concepts of Quranic exegesis, the Quran's unique literary structure, and its alleged inimitability, Gade highlights how it seamlessly weaves together law, narrative, description and parable. With extensive extracts, illustrations, and detailed insights into its textual history, The Quran: An Introduction helps those coming to the translated text for the first time and it explains the unique issues that Quranic translation raises. Exploring how a huge variety of topics are dealt with in the Quran, from gender and conflict, to mysticism, and even ecological crisis, both students and general readers will find this an invaluable resource. Anna M. Gade is Senior Lecturer at the Religious Studies Programme, Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand.
