

Top Retail Trends for Pet Stores 2014: The Scoop on Happy Poop and Much More

Here's the not-so-secret trend of trends: What people do for themselves, they will do for their pets. Just like we're reading the labels on the foods we eat, we're reading the labels on the food we give our pets. And sometimes we don't like what we see. And just like we're adding vitamins and supplements to our diets, we're also giving them to our cherished companions. These are only two of the top pet industry retail trends you'll discover in these pages. In addition to other trendy trends, you'll find suggestions for sharing your expertise with your customers. THE SCOOP The key to success is putting knowledge into action. You want your customers to know you are the go-to pet expert. Each chapter not only informs you about a top trend, it also gives you exciting suggestions and fun ideas that you can incorporate into your business. Additional resources and recommendations are included to give you a head start on your competition. By promoting yourself as a pet trends expert, you inspire customer loyalty and goodwill. And that translates to profits. We love our pets. And we want the best for our furry, feathered, and finned friends. These beloved critters are members of our families. The proof is in the spending. According to the American Pet Products Association, we'll spend $55.53 billion this year on pets and pet-related services and products. That's an increase from last year of over $2 billion. (Yes, that's billion with a b!) By being aware of top industry trends and sharing their expertise with their customers, pet store retailers position themselves as the go-to-place for relevant and quality information. Become the pet guy or pet gal in your community, and your customers will think of you first when shopping for their best friends.
